

Now fold the paper in half along its width.

②

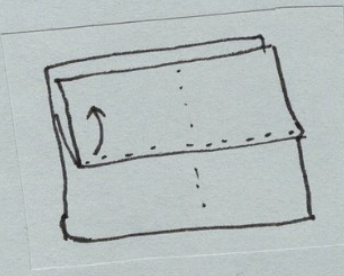

Take an A4 piece of paper, fold in half length-wise

then open it flat again.

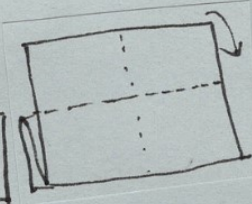

①

Take the open edge & fold it half-way back

③

Flip it over & do the same on this side

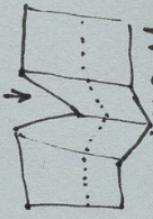

So you have one long, skinny folded piece.

(if you turn it sideways, you should see an 'M')

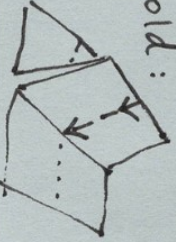

M

④

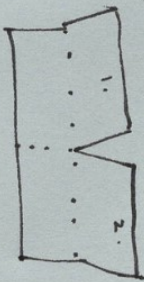

unfold it part-way, so you have what looks like a mountain:

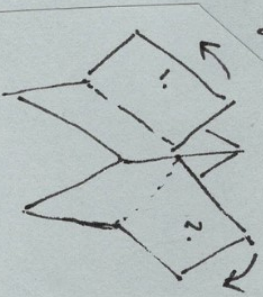

Hold the mountain peak and cut down from the middle to the half-way fold:

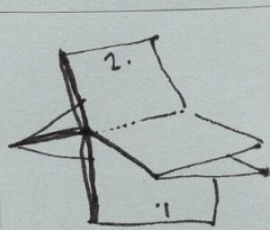

Now you have two mountains:

Pull the peaks away from each other:

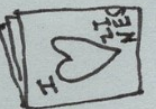

Until they touch, and it looks like a + symbol from the top:

Fold the pages over to make a little booklet...

in other words, a ZINE!

one page!

How to make a

Mini Zine

by Bastian Fox Phelan